

Business Analytics terminology

1) Business analytics means using data to understand a business and help make better choices, it helps make business decision using facts instead of guessing

Eg) A shop looks at its sales numbers to see which products sell the most

2) Looking at data to find useful information and patterns, it helps business understand what's happening in the data

Eg) A company checks customer data to see what products people buy most

3) Uses data, reports and tools to show how a business is performing, it makes it easier for managers to understand information and make decisions

Eg) A manager uses a dashboard to check the company's monthly sales

4) Making decisions based on facts and data instead of only opinions, it can help a business make more informed decisions

Eg) A Restaurant checks its sales before deciding which meals to keep on menu

5) Very large amount of information that business collect and analyse, it can help business find patterns and understand their customers better

Eg) Online store checks sales before deciding millions of customers searches

6) Looks at data to explain what happened, it matters to help business understand its past performances, etc

Eg) company checks sales and finds sales increased 10% last month

7) Looks at data to understand why something happened, helps business find problems and understand their causes

Eg) Business notices sales dropped and checks its data to find the reason

8) Uses past and current data to estimate what could happen in future, helps business prepare for possible future situations

Eg) Shop uses previous sales to predict how much stock for next month

9) Use data to suggest what business should do, helps business choose possible actions based on information they have
Eg) Data shows sales are falling so business is advised to offer special discount

10) Being able to understand, read and use data correctly, helps employees use information properly when making decisions

Data measurement and Reporting

11) Information organised in clear format usually rows and columns, usually easier for businesses to store, search analyse. Eg) Excel spreadsheet

12) Information doesn't follow a format, business can still learn information
Eg) videos

13) Central place where data is stored, gives business one place to access information. Eg) Apple warehouse

14) Looking through large amounts of data for useful patterns, businesses discover customer patterns behaviour. Eg) Company uses bar graph to check sales of month

15) Drawing information using charts graphs, makes large information easier to read. Eg) manager checks dashboard to check sales

16) A screen shows information in one place, allows easy access to see business performance. Eg) manager checks to see revenue

17) Number can be measured, business uses to see performance. Eg) visitation website

18) Used to measure business goal, business to see if goal is being reached

19) Standard to compare performance, Eg) comparing sales to another company

20) Dividing customers into various groups. Eg) clothing, age, buying habits

Customer and sales KPIs

21) Percentage used to take actions, helps business check successful purchase
Eg) People coming to buy compared to visitors

22) Amount a business spends to get new customer, helps business check how much it takes to get customer. Eg) company spends $10.00 for 10 customers = $1.00

23) Total value customer brings to business during their stay, helps understand to customer valubility

Eg) customers buys same store 5yr than that who buys once

24) Percentage customers stop using company product/service, shows how company loses customers

Eg) 100 customers 5 cancel = 5%

25) Percentage customers continue using a business, helps understand how well it keeps its customers

Eg) How many stayed over a year

26) Customers recommend business to other, tells business how their experience is Eg) NetFlux

27) Average customer spent by each order, helps understand how much per purchase

Eg) 10 customers spend 1000 together = 100

28) Steps before customer purchase, helps know where buying purchase occurs
Eg) sees adve, visit website looks product and buys it

Marketing and Campaign Analytics

29) effort used to promote a product, helps reach more people and promote what it sells. Eg) company creates social media campaign

30) checking results after marketing campaign, helps understand what worked and what didn't.

Eg) Company checks its outcome

31) Extra money earned, see whether an investment was worthwhile

Eg) company makes profit more than it actually spent

32) Return a business captured with comparison with invested

Eg) makes more than actually spent

33) Return of profit from advertising money spent

Eg) 1000 Ad spent profit 1000

34) Percentage click on after viewing

Eg) 100 saw 5 clicked 5%

35) Percentage leave without taking another action

Eg) Someone leaves chrome with going to another page

36) Comparing two different versions and see which performs better

Eg) Ad A and Ad B = Ad B performs better

37) Finding who may be interested in becoming a customer

Eg) Coca Cola sends email to join them

38) which marketing channel contributed

Eg) Company checks where a person came from

Sources

www.Google

www.Google Analytics

www.Hubspot

www.Google Ads

www.BM